TENEMENT HOUSE BURNS ON IRVINE ST.

A two-story frame house on Irvine street near Estill avenue was gutted by fire about one o'clock Saturday morning. The origin is unknown. The house was owned by Judge E. C. Million and was occupied by Eva Lewis, colored. Another house owned by Judge Million next door, was damaged somewhat and would have been destroyed, too, but for the valiant work of the fire department. The loss to Judge Million is said to have been about $2,000. The store of Mr. McSwain, close by, had a close call, also.

COATES SCHOOLMATE OF INJURED FLIER

Aaron Coates, who won distinction with the flying forces in the war, was a classmate at flying school during training days of Lieut. Coney, who is lying with a broken back at Crowleyville, La., as a result of a fall. He is much interested in the reports from the game young man's bedside in the hospital there.

Mr. Coates was in Stanford the other day to give L. B. Conn some instructions in operating his flying machine. Mr. Conn, who is proprietor of a large garage there and quite a mechanic, bought an airplane some time ago, but has never attempted to navigate it. Mr. Coates went down to "show him the ropes," and Conn will probably be taking passengers from Stanford to Danville very soon.

SETS UP CLAIM TO IRVINE FARM

David I. White, Jr., Kansas City, Files Answer to Suit for Construction of Irvine Will

David Irvine White, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., sets up his claim to the 234-acre farm at the corner of Lancaster and Barnes Mill pikes just at the edge of Richmond, in answer he files to the petition of Executor John W. Crooke of the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth S. Irvine. Mr. Crooke's petition was published the other day. He asks court construction of the will and asks the court to define his powers as executor regarding the various properties which have come into his hands as executor following the death of Mrs. Irvine last November. Her estate is estimated at $400,000.

Mr. White, who is a son of David Irvine White, Sr., of Huntsville, Ala., is named in the will of the late Wm. M. Irvine, as final legatee of the farm, he claims. He asserts that Mrs. Irvine and his father, David Irvine White, Sr., the farm. A condition in the will were given only life interest in the late Wm. M. Irvine was that in order to be given the farm David Irvine White must drop the "White" of his name and be known as "David Irvine." He states that he is ready to comply with that provision.

His answer also declares that under the laws of Missouri, Mrs. Irvine did not make a legal will. He states that the statutes of that state require two witnesses to a last will and testament. In this event, the fund which Mrs. Irvine provided for the maintenance of her home in Richmond here "Irvinton" as a hospital, would be voided.

The cross petition and answer filed by Mr. White adds an interesting chapter to the legal controversy which has followed probating of Mrs. Irvine's unique will. Many are interested in the various steps and will read with interest what Mr. White says in his answer. It is as follows:

David Irvine White, Jr.'s Answer
Madison Circuit Court
John W. Crooke, Executor of Elizabeth S. Irvine, Dec'd, Plff. Vs.—In Equity
D. Irvine White, et als, Defts.
Separate Answer, Defense, Counter Claim and Cross Petition of David I. White, of Kansas City, Mo.

I. Separate Answer and Defense

Now comes David I. White, of Kansas City, Jackson county, Missouri, one of the defendants in the above entitled cause, and for his separate answer and defense to the said plaintiff's original petition filed herein, says:

Said defendant admits that Elizabeth S. Irvine died on the 25th day of November, 1920. Defendant has not sufficient knowledge or information to form a belief as to the truth of the statements of said plaintiff, to-wit: that said Elizabeth S. Irvine left a last will, or as to the probate thereof, or as to the appointment and qualification of an executor thereof, or as to her devisees, or as to the value of the personal property belonging to the estate of the said deceased that was in the hands of the said plaintiff at the date of the filing of his said petition, or as to the copy of the instrument filed with said petition, marked "Last Will and Testament of Elizabeth S. Irvine, of Richmond, Kentucky," being a true and correct copy and said defendant denies that said Elizabeth S. Irvine left the farm land described in said plaintiff's petition or any interest therein, as a part or parcel of her own individual estate, which might have come into said plaintiff's hands as her executor.

Answering said plaintiff's petition at Paragraph 1, said defendant says said Elizabeth S. Irvine's home was not devised to the Medical Society of Kentucky or to any other so-called Medical Society, or to any other society, firm or corporation, or to the City of Richmond, Kentucky, and said defendant denies that the said Elizabeth S. Irvine devised a leasehold or any other right, title or interest in or to lot 13 in block 20 on Baltimore Avenue in Kansas City, or any other land or interest therein, located in Missouri to any person, firm, corporation or association, and denies that she devised or bequeathed the two sums of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) each for the purpose of remodeling her said residence, and to be used in erecting a monument, respectively, or for or to be used for any other purpose. And this defendant says that if the copy attached to said plaintiff's petition and marked as aforesaid, is a true copy of the alleged will of plaintiff's alleged testatrix, then the same as a will is ineffectual to pass the title to any lands or real estate or any interest or estate therein, or rents therefrom that might be located within the State of Missouri, the same not having been executed according to and as is required by the laws of the State of Missouri, which said laws are and were at all times mentioned herein in full force and effect, and are in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

Sec. 233, Statutes of Non-residents, how administered
When administration shall be taken in any state on the estate of any person, who at the time of his decease, was an inhabitant of any other state or country, his real estate found here, after the payment of his debts, shall be disposed of according to his last will, if he left any, duly executed according to the laws of his domicile; and if there should be no such will, his real estate shall descend according to the laws of this state, and his personal estate shall be distributed and disposed of according to the laws of the state or country of which he was an inhabitant. (R. S. 1909, 260.)

(1919 Rev. Statutes of Mo. Vol. I, Ch. 1, Art. 10)
"Sec. 507—Will to be in writing, how signed and how attested—Every will shall be in writing, signed by the testator, or by some person, by his direction, in his presence; and shall be attested by two or more competent witnesses subscribing their names to the will in the presence of the testator. (R. S. 1909, 537.)

(1919 Rev. Statutes of Mo. Vol. I, Ch. 1, Art. 20.)
"Sec. 537. Any person owning real or personal estate in this state may devise, etc. when—how.—Any person owning in any real or personal estate in this state may devise or bequeath the same by last will, executed and admitted, to probate according to the laws of this state or executed according to the laws of the state or territory in which the will shall be probated. (R. S. 1909, 537, amended laws, 1917, p. 128.)"

(1919 Rev. Statutes of Mo. Vol. I, Ch. 1, Art. 20.)

Said lot 13 block 20, is located in Kansas City, Jackson county, Missouri.

Answering said plaintiff's petition at Paragraph 2, thereof, said defendant said: Said defendant admits that David Irvine, deceased, whose will was probated in the Madison County Court at Richmond, Ky., in the year 1872, devised a large amount of property to Elizabeth S. Irvine, his daughter, under a clause of his will as set out in plaintiff's petition. Said defendant has not sufficient knowledge or information to form a belief as to the truth of the statements of said plaintiff that on the 22nd day of August, 1872, or at any other time Sarah I. White, the daughter, of said David Irvine, joined in an agreement or executed the same with Elizabeth S. Irvine, and others, by which it was at the time stipulated or agreed that the said Elizabeth S. Irvine should have the right to dispose of, by last will and testament, by deed or otherwise, all of the estate remaining of the devise to her from her father, as she chose, should she survive all her children.

Said defendant admits that the said Elizabeth S. Irvine did survive all her children and also all her brothers and sisters, and admits that neither of her brothers, David W. Irvine or I. Shelby Irvine, left children or descendants. Said defendant admits that the persons named as the descendants of Sarah I. White, deceased, are

JESSAMINE BAR ENDORSES BAXTER

A Strong Recommendation of Young Candidate Given By All Nicholasville Lawyers

William J. Baxter, of Jessamine, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney in this district, was in Richmond Friday night en route home from over the district. He expresses himself as well pleased with the progress of his campaign. He says he is meeting with great encouragement wherever he goes; that a great many of the voters seem to think that it is time to give the young man a chance at the office, which has been held by the incumbent for 30 years.

Mr. Baxter is particularly pleased over a written endorsement he has just received signed by every member of the Jessamine county bar. His friends say that such a honor would not have been tendered any man who was not worthy in every way of it. The endorsement sent Mr. Baxter by the lawyers of Jessamine county reads as follows:

We, the members of the Jessamine County Bar, note that William Jefferson Baxter, a member of this bar, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney of the 25th judicial district of Kentucky.

We take pleasure in commending him to the voters of the district as an energetic, capable, honest lawyer, an upright and reliable citizen.

It was understood Senator Jones will leave to compromise the long-time prerogative of naming postmasters.

COLORED COLUMN

(By W. B. Chenault)

The wonderful revival is still going on at the Predestinarian Baptist church at Richmond, Ky. The Lord has wonderfully blessed us! We are having a regular spiritual feast the fame has gone out far and near. We have had six conversions and 20 mourners. Old sinners are being converted and the church members are having their spiritual strength renewed. Rev. C. H. Hughes, of Warsaw, and Rev. Ely Yates, of Richmond, are laboring hard and by the help of God, for they see that there is a great need for a further advancement in the cause of Christ. May God forever bless the great work. Our congregation is so great that we regret so much that we have not got seating capacity to accommodate our friends. Pray for us that the Spirit of God may still exist. Contributed.

Lansing, who has gone into the papers and magazines with his views of the peace conference, was an insignificant under-secretary until Woodrow Wilson made him Secretary of State after Bryan had "laid down" just before the war broke out. When Wilson didn't consult him as an equal at Paris during the peace conference Lansing sulked and then quit. Now he's making capital of the prominence that Woodrow Wilson gave him by criticizing the ex-president, who practically fired him. Take what he says with a grain of salt and as the emanations of a disgruntled and disappointed officeholder, and there you are.

IRVINE CLAIM

all descendants and heirs-at-law of Sarah I. White, and defendant says that the correct name of the said descendant first named as such heir-at-law in said plaintiff's petition is D. Irvine White, Sr., and that in addition to the said descendants and heirs named, Jas. C. Greenway is a descendant of the said Sarah I. White, and that all of said descendants of the said Sarah I. White are also all and the only heirs-at-law of the said David Irvine, the father of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, and the said Sarah I. White.

This defendant is informed and believes and from such information and belief admits the truth of the statement of the said plaintiff, that the said defendant, D. Irvine White, Sr., and his sisters, Sarah McD. White and Shelby W. Walker, are asserting that Elizabeth S. Irvine disposed of a large amount of property which was devised to her by her father's will and that they are asserting that she failed to reinvest the proceeds according to the terms of his will and that they are asserting that the written agreement between the heirs of David Irvine, to-wit: his four children, did not and could not vest her, the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, with the right to dispose of said property as she chose, and that they are asserting that by reason of her failure to reinvest the proceeds of her sale of such property, the heirs-at-law of David Irvine, who are also the heirs-at-law of Sarah I. White, have a large claim as the heirs-at-law of David Irvine against the estate of his, the said petitioner's alleged testatrix and said defendant admits that if such an alleged claim exists or is made the same would constitute a cloud upon the title of the estate of plaintiff's alleged testatrix and defendant admits that until such claim is judicially determined the plaintiff cannot with safety distribute the personal estate of his alleged testatrix without first discharging said claim.

Further answering said plaintiff's petition at said Paragraph 2, this defendant says, said defendants, D. Irvine White, Sr., Shelby W. Walker, Susan McD. White, the only living children of said Sarah I. White, and the said five living children of Alice W. Greenway, a deceased child of Sarah I. White, and the said seven living children of the said Bettie W. Patton, a deceased child of said Sarah I. White, all fifteen of whom are or should be defendants herein, and all fifteen of whom are not only the heirs-at-law of said Sarah I. White, but also are all and the only heirs-at-law of said David Irvine, who died in 1872, and that he is informed and believes and from such information and belief states the fact to be that the claim of all of said heirs of David Irvine as such against the estate of Elizabeth S. Irvine, for an amount within reason of the proceeds received by the said Elizabeth S. Irvine from the sale or sales of any property she received from her father under his will, is a valid claim, and when duly made and proved, of a just indebtedness against the estate of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, for by the allegations of said plaintiff's petition herein, the said David Irvine left the property devised by him to Elizabeth S. Irvine, to her for her life only, with remainder in fee to those designated by him as the children or descendants of children of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, that might be living at first taker's death, with power to sell and reinvest the proceeds; such reinvestments to be held by the said first taker, the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, upon like use and trusts as the said original property devised to her was subject to, and this defendant says that said remainder in fee, and the devise thereof, lapsed for the want of living children, or descendants of living children, of Elizabeth S. Irvine, to take as remainder at her death, and the title to the subject matter of said devise so made by said David Irvine to Elizabeth S. Irvine, passed to his heirs-at-law as in case of his intestacy, and not to his legatees; and said defendant says that said remainder interest in said property and said trust fund did not at any time vest in said Sarah I. White, and did not revert to the estate of David Irvine until November 25, 1920, the date of the death of Elizabeth S. Irvine, and long subsequent to the date of the death of Sarah I. White, and that Sarah I. White could not have, by her agreement barred her children of and from the title to property and right, which never at any time vested in her, and which title and property they do not claim through her, the said Sarah I. White.

Answering said plaintiff's petition at paragraph 3, thereof, this defendant says: This defendant admits that William M. Irvine was the husband of Elizabeth S. Irvine, and admits that by his will, which was duly filed, proved, probated and recorded in the Madison County Court, on the 6th day of April, 1891, William M. Irvine provided that in the event that she, his said wife, died intestate and without making any disposition of his estate, that the said remainder should be divided in the manner set forth in said document; and this defendant denies that said William M. Irvine made or provided in his said will any gift, interest, devise or provision for his said wife of his estate, or any interest or estate therein, or right connected therewith or hereto, except as is stated and alleged in this defendant's counter-claim and cross petition herein; and this defendant denies that the alleged copy of the said William M. Irvine's will, attached to said plaintiff's petition, is a just, true, and correct copy thereof, and this defendant denies that the devises made to David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Alabama, and this defendant, David I. White, his second son, of the arm described, was made as alleged in plaintiff's petition, or was made in any other language than that hereinafter set out in this defendant's counter-claim and cross petition; and said defendant says that he has not sufficient information or knowledge to form a belief as to the truth of the allegation that David Irvine White, Sr., his father, is asserting and claiming that because the alleged will of Elizabeth S. Irvine does not devise the farm to any one, the said farm passes to said David Irvine White, Sr., for and during his natural life and at his death to David Irvine White, Jr., this defendant; but says that if the said David Irvine White, Sr., is making such claims for and of his interest or estate in said farm, such claim, while not correctly worded, is correctly founded and based in and on valid gifts of William M. Irvine, and said defendant denies that said farm is the property of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine's estate, and denies that this alleged claim constitutes a cloud upon the title to said farm or embarrasses the estate of Elizabeth S. Irvine, or any proper administration thereof.

Wherefore, this defendant, Da-

Bolton—Wagers

Friends and relatives here were surprised to receive news early Saturday morning of the wedding of Miss Maude Bolton, of this city, and Mr. Hugh Colyer Wagers, of Cincinnati, which occurred at the latter place Saturday.
Miss Bolton is the daughter of Mr. Wm. Bolton, of this city. Mr.
Wagers is a popular son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wagers, the former a prominent commission merchant of Cincinnati. Both young people are exceedingly popular with a host of friends and relatives. The bride went as a Red Cross nurse to France and was away probably ten months. It is said the romance started during the recent illness of her groom, at a local hospital, when Miss Bolton nursed him back to health. Their legion of friends extend very best wishes.

Slumber Suits and Hidden Wear

HERE is nothing particularly new in negligees, pajamas or under-slings, except the names by which they are called. Pajamas and the e have become "slumber suits"; a ful and elastic title that will include several types of night dress.
Hidden wear" is also more accurate an undermuslin, for underclothes ve long since divided their allegi-ence between muslin and silk fabrics,
th demand pointing toward the use crepe-de-chine in increasing quanties. As women grow fastidious in ese matters they require more in ality of fabric, whether of cotton ilk, more in quality of workman-ip, and discrimination in the use trimming.

It is a little difficult to tell the difference between negligees and slumer suits sometimes, especially when h are modeled after the pajama.
e slumber suit pictured is of light ak crepe-de-chine with val lace edging and small ribbon flowers adding to its daintiness. It is one among many patterned after this particular style which appears almost as popular for negligees. In displays the later are often distinctly Chinese in flavor, made of figured materials in bright colors, or in plain colors gayly embroidered.

Fine batiste, in regulation garments hand-embroidered and rather sparingly ly trimmed with good laces, holds its own with its silken rivals, having certain qualities of refinement that cannot be outclassed. Underwear appears to have swung away from anything but soft sheer fabrics, and there is a tendency toward the use of light colors in place of white.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful
Use, Praised by an Arkansas
Mother, "Soon Does
Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the name
"Theodor's Black-Draught." NO. 141

FEW CONTRIBUTIONS FROM MADISON CO.

For China Relief Fund, but Little Children of Pine Mountain School Do Their Part

Dr. E. T. Mullins, state chairman of the China Relief Fund, has announced the following contributions from Madison county:

Laura Clay, Richmond, $50; C.

A. Winkler, Berea, $10.

Instead of observing self-denial week as a means of raising money for the 40,000,000 inhabitants of the famine area in north central China, the pupils of the Pine Mountain Settlement School in Harlan county, will deny themselves one meal a week for one month thus saving 17 cents on each meal. Through this saving they have already sent $101 to the China Famine Fund, Louisville. This is the gist of a letter from Mrs. Ethel DeLong Zande, received by the Rev. E. Y.
Mullins, of Louisville, chairman of the fund. Dr. Mullins previously issued an appeal throughout the state for the observance of a week of self-denial by the omission from each meal of some little food luxury and the money thus saved to be donated to the Chinese.

Mrs. Zande is a member of the executive committee of the Pine Mountain School. Her letter in part follows:

"I want to tell you how heartily our children are carrying out the plan—they voted unanimously to have famine rations one day a week and their comments are something like this, 'Last week I weren't nary bit hungry at supper time.'"

"One old grandmother in the neighborhood told me how she had coaxed her granddaughter, who is a day pupil in our school,
to eat an extra breakfast and take more at supper time, but Elsie replied, 'Why, Granm, I can hardly eat at all, thinking of those little Chinese children.'"

"It is touching when we realize how little our children really have and how willing they are to sacrifice that little. The children plan to carry this campaign of dinnerless Fridays through March and are rejoicing in the numbers of Chinese they can feed through this saving of 17 cents a day on each meal."

The fund for the starving Chinese which is being raised in the state is gradually growing larger as checks are being received at headquarters in Louisville from all parts of the state.

B. M. Stagner, Jr., of Lancaster, is spending the week-end ed from a several weeks stay in Buckley, are at home from St.

Agatha's Academy, to spend Easter with their mother.

TOO ILL TO WORK

A Mother Tells How Her

Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's

Philadelphia, Pa.—"At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble

every month. She had bad pains across her back and in her sides, her back would strain her so that she could not do her work
and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pink-

Compound. She took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you per-

EICHER, 4034 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.
Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions and often with wet feet, young girls contract deranged conditions, and before they are hardly aware of it they develop headaches, backache, irregularities, nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. If every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms would profit by the experience of Mrs. Eicher and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial
she may expect the same happy result.

EASTER DAY (Kate Rose Wiggins)

Easter day is almost here
In its triumph, bringing cheer.
Triumph over death's dark gloom.
Triumph over sealed tomb.
Rocks and stones did fly apart,
Love triumphant over art.
Man's device has surely failed,
And Christ's death alone prevailed.

Every springing bud or flower
Telling of love's wondrous power;
Every song of bird in air
Trilling of a lute more fair,
Purchased by the Savior's pain,
Which for us a Heaven gained,
Where we'll drop our grief and care,
And with Him its glories share.

Let's forget ills of the past,
Wrongs that only chill and blast,
Burdens, cares so hard to bear,
Only conquered by earnest prayer.
Now in triumph let us sing,
Death has long its venom sting,
Hence the grave—a gateway will be
To joys unspeakable for you and me.

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Theodor's Black-Draught." NO. 141

FEW CONTRIBUTIONS FROM MADISON CO.

For China Relief Fund, but Little Children of Pine Mountain School Do Their Part

Dr. E. T. Mullins, state chairman of the China Relief Fund, has announced the following contributions from Madison county:

Laura Clay, Richmond, $50; C. A. Winkler, Berea, $10.

Instead of observing self-denial week as a means of raising money for the 40,000,000 inhabitants of the famine area in north central China, the pupils of the Pine Mountain Settlement School in Harlan county, will deny themselves one meal a week for one month, thus saving 17 cents on each meal. Through this saving they have already sent $101 to the China Famine Fund, Louisville.

This is the gist of a letter from Mrs. Ethel DeLong Zande, received by the Rev. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, chairman of the fund. Dr. Mullins previously issued an appeal throughout the state for the observance of a week of self-denial by the omission from each meal of some little food luxury and the money thus saved to be donated to the Chinese.

Mrs. Zande is a member of the executive committee of the Pine Mountain School. Her letter in part follows:

"I want to tell you how heartily our children are carrying out the plan—they voted unanimously to have famine rations one day a week and their comments are something like this, 'Last week I weren't nary bit hungry at supper time.'"

"One old grandmother in the neighborhood told me how she had coaxed her granddaughter, who is a day pupil in our school, to eat an extra breakfast and take more at supper time, but Elsie replied, 'Why, Granny, I can hardly eat at all, thinking of those little Chinese children.'"

"It is touching when we realize how little our children really have and how willing they are to sacrifice that little. The children plan to carry this campaign of dinnerless Fridays through March and are rejoicing in the numbers of Chinese they can feed through this saving of 17 cents a day on each meal."

The fund for the starving Chinese which is being raised in the state is gradually growing larger as checks are being received at headquarters in Louisville from all parts of the state.

B. M. Stagner, Jr., of Lancaster, is spending the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Calvin Galloway, on Collins street.

TOO ILL TO WORK

A Mother Tells How Her Daughter Was Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Philadelphia, Pa.—"At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had bad pains across her back and in her sides, her back would pain her so that she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. KATIE EICHER, 4034 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions and often with wet feet, young girls contract deranged conditions, and before they are hardly aware of it they develop headaches, backache, irregularities, nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. If every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms would profit by the experience of Mrs. Eicher and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial she may expect the same happy result.

OVER KENTUCKY

(By Associated Press)

Hartford, Ky., March 26.—Farmers of Ohio county co-operating with County Agr. B. B. McInteer, are seeking to better the dairy industry in that county by means of a dairy calf which is expected to teach the boys and girls proper methods of dairying. Already 25 youngsters have signed up for purebred calves which they will develop as club projects.

Newport, Ky., March 26.—Co-operative associations have been formed in Campbell county by the farmers and dairymen for purpose of bettering livestock. Officers and directors chosen are: President, George Herringer, California; vice president, Jesse Harrison, Alexandria; secretary-treasurer, Alfred Eichen, California; directors, J. A. Rehholz, Samuel Sprague, George Herringer and Alfred Eichen all of California. The 40 members of the association have 25 cows. They raised sufficient funds to complete a "three block" association with a $1,000 Holstein bull in each block. Two of the bulls have already been purchased from the Coldstream farm at Lexington and it is desired to have some of the best blooded cattle in Kentucky. The organization was perfected under the direction of Harold F. Link, Campbell county agricultural agent.

Pikeville, Ky., March 26.—No dog tax, lower property and personal taxes, good roads, better pay for teachers and prohibition are the principal planks in the platform of Rev. N. T. Hopkins on which he is asking the voters of Pike county to nominate him for the state legislature on the Republican ticket. He points to the fact that he is a former member of the legislature and that he has been a minister of the Gospel for 45 years.

EASTER DAY

(Kate Rose Wiggins)

Easter day is almost here
In its triumph, bringing cheer.
Triumph over death's dark gloom,
Triumph over sealed tomb.
Rocks and stones did fly apart,
Love triumphant over art.
Man's device has surely failed,
And Christ's death alone prevailed.

Every springing bud or flower
Telling of love's wondrous power;
Every song of bird in air
Trilling of a land more fair.
Purchased by the Savior's pain,
Which for us a Heaven gained,
Where we'll drop our grief and care,
And with Him its glories share.

Let's forget ills of the past,
Wrongs that only chill and blast,
Burdens, cares so hard to bear,
Only conquered by earnest prayer.
Now in triumph let us sing,
Death has long its venom sting,
Hence the grave—a gateway will be
To joys unspeakable for you and me.

"The Safe, Sane and Natural Way to Regain and Keep Your Health"

You may have little or no faith in efficacy of the drugless health science of Chiropractic for the simple reason that you know little or nothing about it.

Let me give you an illustration which even a child can understand.

Your watch having given you good service for years, suddenly "goes bad" and begins to "lose time." You naturally take it to the watchmaker or repairman who, after examining it more or less carefully, says, "Oh, yes, I can soon fix this for you. I will take out one of the wheels and then it will give as good service as usual." You immediately snatch the watch out of the hands of the "FOOL," for such you naturally call him, and try some other repairman.

Your next repairman is saner. He also examines the watch and says, "Yes, I can soon fix that; it needs a little adjusting, and if you will leave it with me for a day or so, I will adjust it so that it will keep as good time as it ever did." You leave the watch with him and in due time you get your watch back, keeping perfect time as of yore.

Your body is as intricate and delicate a piece of mechanism as any machine that was ever manufactured. Something goes wrong; you are sick with some "dis-ease." The doctor is called and after making a careful examination says, "Oh, yes, I can soon fix you up o. k. I will take a part of your intestines and one kidney and your appendix out, and your health will be restored, and your body (machine) will give as good service as before." He removes the effect, but the cause remains and can invariably be traced to subluxated (displaced) vertebrae (bones of the spine) pinching the nerves and preventing the normal flow of (mental impulse) life force from the brain through the nerves to the various organs of the body. Why you should allow any part of your bodily mechanism removed is more than we can understand. How much more reasonable it would be for you to consult a Human Mechanist (Chiropractor) and have him to adjust the (cause of your condition) subluxated vertebrae back to their normal positions, thus relieving the compressed nerve and getting rid of the cause. Does not this seem more reasonable to you? Since God made up your bodily mechanism, placed every part in you for a purpose and a function, necessary to sustain life. Think it over carefully.

WEBER MAY PLAN MIDDLESBORO HOTEL

After being appointed architect for the Richmond School Board, E. A. Weber, of Newport, went to Middlesboro, where he is planning a big hotel job. Middlesboro is to have a new hotel on the site of the old Cumberland hotel which burned recently. Stockholders of the old hotel recently held a meeting at which it was said the sentiment was in favor of erecting a modern three-story building with provisions for adding more stories later. The old Cumberland was built in 1899 by Zan Tribble, of Danville, who several months ago sold it to a stock company.

Bids have been asked at Harlan for the $125,000 court house to be built there on the site of the historic structure now standing. The old building has for many years been too small for proper housing of the county offices and last year a bond issue was voted to erect a new structure. The bids will be closed April 25. Mr. Weber's firm may handle this, too.

No Sport is Too Strenuous For Miss Claire Adams

Claire Adams is a real athlete girl. When attending college in Canada she became an expert at skating, skiing, snowshoeing, tobogganing and racing sled dogs on the north woods trails.

But now that her contract with Benjamin B. Hampton necessitates southern California being her home, she is becoming an expert surfer swimmer. Best of all, she likes aquaplaning, which is riding a surf boat that is tied behind a fast motor boat. Golfing, tennis and riding are other forms of exercise in which she revels.

Miss Adams' principal ambition is to buy and furnish a country-like bungalow home near Hollywood, and there maintain a stable, kennels, tennis courts, swimming pool and a wonderful flower garden.

"The Money Changers" is Miss Adams' newest picture. It is a powerful drama from the novel by Upton Sinclair of the same title. It will appear at the local theaters Monday.

Dorothy Dalton Paramount Star in "Half An Hour"

Dorothy Dalton, for several years one of the leading stars of Thomas H. Ince, makes her debut as a stellar light of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation in Sir James M. Barrie's "Half An Hour," which is coming to the local theaters.

Henceforth she is to be starred exclusively in Paramount production and some of the best stories obtainable have been purchased for her use. Her rise has been so steady that she is now one of the favorite stars of the film world.

Buster Keaton Breaks Leg; To Come East Soon

Buster Keaton broke his leg a short time ago while making a comedy, and is in a hospital in Los Angeles. It will take six weeks before he is able to walk again. At the end of that time he will come east for a rest and vacation. Buster will probably marry Natalie Talmadge upon his arrival in New York.

Prosperity Note

Little Alck Coogan, five-year-old boy who plays with Charlie Chaplin in "The Kid," bought his mother an automobile for Christmas.

Teacher—"Do you know the population of New York?" Pupil—"Not all of them, ma'am; only lived here two years."

It was Bert Lytell's birthday Thursday, February 24. He was 71 years old. He spent the day at the studio and at night several friends surprised him at his apartment with a little party. He has more friends in the business than the average star.

Lillian Gish is still unassigned. Metro made her an offer. She is considering it. Woods and Harris want to put her on the stage. Mr. Griffith wants her back. All sorts of bids for her. Not decided what to do. Will not work in California, and doesn't like the stage.

Owen Moore is a lucky chap. He was in the hospital two weeks and rarely alone. All of his best friends called to cheer him up. Stars, extra, girls and employees at his bedside constantly—tribute to his popularity.

Tommy Meighan is on his way east again. The Famous Players officials are looking for a leading woman for him. Gladys Valerie will probably be the lucky one.

Anna Q. Nilsson has been signed by Harry Rapt to star in "Why Girls Leave Home." Corinne Barker appears in the same picture.

Lucy Cotton has gone for a cruise on a friend's private yacht in West Indies waters. She appeared in "The Misleading Lady" with Bert Lytell.

Elsie Ferguson is back home in New York after making her first photoplay in Los Angeles. Altho she has been on the Pacific coast often with dramatic productions, she has always made her pictures in the east. The one exception which caused her to go west was the filming of Arnold Bennett's play, "Sacred and Profane Love," which had to be done in California.

Doctor—I am afraid I will have to operate for appendicitis. The Beaut—Oh, doctor, will the scar show? Doctor—Not unless you go in the movies.

Douglas Fairbanks has signed Marguerite De La Motte, his leading lady in "The Mark of Zorro," for an entire year. As a rule he changes with every picture. She will appear with him in "The Nut" and in "The Three Musketeers."

Seena Owen, accompanied by her maid and little child, has gone to California, where she will probably make two pictures.

Thomas Heffron, the Reelart director responsible for Mary Miles Minter's recent hit, "The Little Clown," is now at work directing a new picture for Wanda Hawley.

Enjoying a quiet vacation in Los Angeles, quite incognito, except to a few personal friends, is no less important a stage celebrity than Henrietta Crossman, one of the foremost of American stars while she remained on the stage. In private life Miss Crossman is the wife of Major Maurice Campbell, who is at work in Los Angeles directing a new picture for Bebe Daniels.

"Gee, I'd hate to be Mary Miles Minter on March 15," an humble little "extra" was heard to remark at the Reelart studio one day recently. "Why, you silly, she's a star!" gasped her friend, "Yeah, I know. And just think of the income tax she's got to pay on that salary of hers!" returned Extra No. 1. "As the recipient of the recipient of the highest salary ever earned by one of her age in the history of the world, Miss Minter is indeed to be commiserated on the unusually large income returns she had to make."

As March 17 approached interest in Hollywood and Los Angeles increased over the trial of Bebe Daniels before Justice Cox. Santa Ana, on a charge of speeding. Several enterprising merchants with an eye to publicity volunteered to furnish the star's hat, gloves, shoes, wrap and other articles of apparel for her to wear at the trial. One especially ambitious storekeeper offered to furnish her cell in case she received the jail sentence which Judge Cox is so fond of imposing!

Samuel Merwin, the popular novelist and short story writer wrote the photoplay in which Alice Brady will next be seen. The picture has not yet received a title, but both Miss Brady and Mr. Merwin as well as Chas. Maigne who directed the production, are already receiving congratulations.

Constance Binney, after a brief vacation, is back at the studio in Astoria, making another Reelart picture. She is not appearing on the stage this year, as she did last, the double work having proved rather too arduous for her enthusiasm.

Bebe Daniels and Gloria Swanson in Hair-Pulling Bee

Introducing Gloria Swanson and Bebe Daniels, catch-as-catch-can battlers extraordinary.

For the benefit of a battery of cameras these two talented members of Cecil B. DeMille's all-star motion picture company, recently staged a battle that will go down in screen history as one of the wildest and most destructive hand-to-hand conflicts ever filmed.

The fight was promoted by Cecil B. DeMille in the interest of his latest Paramount Artcraft production, "Why Change Your Wife?" which is coming to the Richmond theaters Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. DeMille acted as referee, timekeeper—and, incidentally, director.

Of course, the battle was over a man. The gentleman was Thomas Meighan, and he was about the only person at the studio who did not witness one or more rounds of the scrimmage. His role required him to slumber peacefully through the series of scenes.

"Why Change Your Wife?" which has been filmed with all the DeMille artistry and eye for the beautiful, was written by William DeMille and scenarized by Sadi Cowan and Olga Printzen.

Sporting an attractive and expensive tan, the Talmadge family, Norma, Constance and Natalie, with Jos. M. Schoon, husband of Norma, returned a few days ago from Palm Beach. IRVINE CLAIM counter claim against the said John W. Crooke, as the alleged executor of the alleged will of Elizabeth S. Irvine, deceased, and his cross petition against all other said defendants, says:

1. Said David I. White of Kansas City, Mo., is and for the seventeen years last past has been a resident and citizen of this city, is over the age of twenty-one years, is the second son of said D. Irvine White, of Huntsville, Ala., is the same identical person as the David Irvine described as the second son of D. Irvine White of Huntsville, Ala., in the last will of Wm. M. Irvine, deceased, which said will was duly filed, proved, probated and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court at Richmond, Madison county, Ky., a true, correct photographic copy of which said will and order admitting the same to probate in Madison county, Ky., is hereto attached and filed herewith and made a part hereof.

2. Said defendants, whose names and places of residence are set out in the caption hereof as parties defendant, are all over the age of twenty-one years and all of such defendants, except John W. Crooke and A. J. House, are non-residents of the state of Kentucky, are now absent therefrom, and cannot be served personally with process, and the said defendants, D. Irvine White, Susan McD. White, and Shelby W. Walker, are the only living children of Sarah I. White and Addison White, of Huntsville, Ala., both deceased, and said defendants John C. Greenway, James C. Greenway, Gilbert C. Greenway, William I. Greenway, and Sadie G. Keller, are all and the only living children of Alice W. Greenway, deceased, who was a child of said Sarah I. White; and the said defendants Irvine W. Patton, Oliver B. Patton, Humes Patton, Shelby W. Patton, Susie B. Bennett, Mattie Lee Darwin, and Alice G. Walker, are all and the only living children of Bettie W. Patton, deceased, who was a child of the said Sarah I. White, and all of said children and said grandchildren of said Sarah I. White, deceased, named as parties defendant herein, are all and the only heirs at law of David Irvine, who died testate at his home at Richmond, Kentucky, in or about the year 1872—of said Sarah I. White, deceased, who was a daughter of said David Irvine—of I. Shelby Irvine, deceased, who was a son of said David Irvine—of David W. Irvine, deceased, who was a son of said David Irvine—of and of Elizabeth S. Irvine, deceased, who was a daughter of said David Irvine, and who died at her home at Richmond, Kentucky, on November 25th, 1920, leaving a written document alleged by said John W. Crooke to be her last will and testament.

3. Said fifteen persons herein named and described as the children and grandchildren of said Sarah I. White, are entitled to share in whatever property they may be entitled to as the heirs of law of said David Irvine, Sarah I. White, I. Shelby Irvine, David W. Irvine and Elizabeth S. Irvine, or any one of them as follows—the said three living children of the said Sarah I. White, a one-fifth interest each; the said five living children of said Alice W. Greenway a one twenty-fifth interest each, and the said seven living children of said Bettie W. Patton a one-thirty-fifth interest each.

4. Said cross petitioner says that he is informed and believes, and that from such information and belief he states the fact to be that the said defendant, A. J. House, is now in the actual possession of the 234-acre farm described and referred to in the will of William M. Irvine, deceased, as being in the forks of the Richmond and Barnes Mill turnpikes, and which said farm is more particularly described in the deeds from David W. Irvine to William M. Irvine and from J. Stone Walker and wife to William M. Irvine, both on file and of record in the office of the clerk of the County Court at Richmond, in Book 23 at page 341 and Book 29 at page 389, respectively, under a lease made to him during her lifetime by the said Elizabeth S. Irvine.

5. Said John W. Crooke, neither as executor or as an individual, has any valid right, title, interest or claim in or to said farm. The said farm is not one of the assets of the estate of Elizabeth S. Irvine, deceased. If the said Elizabeth S. Irvine left a will and appointed an executor, as is alleged by said John W. Crooke, he is vested only with his testatrix title to her personal estate under said document and only for the purpose of conserving her estate and executing the provisions and the legacies as provided and limited in said document after the payment of all just debts, proper administrative expenses, and taxable court costs. Said Elizabeth S. Irvine's intention was not to vest any right, title, or interest in said farm, which was no part of her estate, nor did she intend to vest any right, title, or interest in any real estate that belonged to her estate in John W. Crooke or D. Irvine White as executors. The personal property assets of Elizabeth S. Irvine's estate, he is informed and believes and from such information and belief states the fact to be, are of a value more than sufficient to pay all of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine's just debts, administrative expenses, and other costs of administration and that such personal property assets are all in the possession of the said John W. Crooke; that by said alleged document the said Elizabeth S. Irvine made specific gifts of a part of the items of her said personal estate now in the hands of her said alleged executor, and expressly prohibited the sale of her estate for the purpose of discharging her voluntary gifts of personal property by way of legacies, general or specific, or any balance of the value thereof, or for any other purpose; that by the residuary clause of said alleged will and other language thereof, the said Elizabeth S. Irvine intended to and did give to her residuary legatee as such, the balance or residuum of her personal property assets left in the hands of her executor, after the payment by him of all just debts, expenses, taxable costs of administration, and valid legacies only.

6. Said John W. Crooke, without any justification in law, has undertaken and is attempting to mix and to mingle the said farm, which was one of the assets of the estate of the said William M. Irvine, deceased, and the subject of his valid testamentary gifts to this counter-claimant and others, with the true assets of the estate of Elizabeth S. Irvine, and is undertaking and attempting, and has clouded this counter-claimant's title to said farm by so doing, and by claiming in his said petition filed by him herein, for the alleged purpose of having the alleged will of Elizabeth S. Irvine construed as to his duties that this counter-claimant's title to said farm is not a valid title, all against this counter-claimant's rights and to his damage. Said cross-petitioner's and counter-claimant's title to said farm, the subject of the gift to him by said William M. Irvine, has never heretofore been questioned, except as hereinbefore referred to.

7. The said David I. White has heretofore and now hereby formally accepts the said gift made to him by the said William M. Irvine, deceased, in his said last will and testament, of the title to the farm hereinbefore described, to take effect in enjoyment at the date of the death of the said D. Irvine White, the father of this cross petitioner and counter-claimant, and the said

David I. White has heretofore and now hereby formally agrees to do and perform any and all acts required of him to be done and performed and to fully comply with all requirements and conditions in the manner and within the time provided by the said William M. Irvine, deceased, in making and in connection with his said gift, and in consideration hereof.

8. And said cross petitioner further says that by the following language employed by the said Wm. M. Irvine, deceased, in his said last will and testament, to-wit:

It is my will that my wife, Elizabeth S. Irvine, shall have all of my estate, real and mixed and personal, as my sole heir. And I do hereby appoint her my executrix and request that the court of the county shall not require any inventory of my estate or any security on her bond as executrix of this, my last will and testament. In the event, however, that she, my wife, dies intestate and without making any disposition of my estate, then I provide that my estate shall be divided  subject to the approval, alteration or change in part or of the whole of my wife, Elizabeth S. Irvine, except the legacies to my half brother, John S. Harris. These I require to be paid at her death, as follows: . . . I give to David Irvine White, my nephew adjoining the town of Richmond, Ky., containing over 200 acres and situated in the forks of the Richmond and Barnes turnpikes, to use and enjoy the profits of during his natural life and at his death, the title in the same, to his second son, David Irvine provided he drops the White from his name and takes that of his grandfather David Irvine. . . . I wish also to make William Irvine, the son of Dr. G. C. Greenway, my residuary legatee and anything left after paying all above legacies to descend to him.

and by other language employed by the said William M. Irvine, deceased, in his said last will and testament, the said William M. Irvine intended to and did create the following vested interests or estates in his said farm to take effect in enjoyment in the following order, to-wit:—

1st Interest or estate with exclusive possession and enjoyment for her life in his wife and widow, Elizabeth S. Irvine.

2nd Interest or estate with right of possession at the death of Elizabeth S. Irvine, in David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Alabama, for his life;

3rd Interest or estate with right of possession at the death of said David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Alabama, in this cross petitioner, David I. White, of Kansas City, Missouri, in fee—remainder subject to be divested by the non-performance of the condition that he drop the name of White and take the name of David Irvine within the time provided;

4th Interest or estate in William Irvine Greenway as residuary legatee in reversion after the deaths of Elizabeth S. Irvine, David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Alabama, and David I. White, of Kansas City, Missouri, subject to be divested by the performance by said David I. White, of Kansas City, Missouri, within the time provided, of the said condition; extent thereof or as to the donees thereof.

8 The said William M. Irvine's fixed purpose in writing his will and disposing of his property therein was that both he and his wife should not die intestate as to his estate or as to any part thereof, and that his whole estate, upon his wife's death, should go either to the objects of his bounty or to the objects of her bounty, and that neither his nor her heirs-at-law, as such, should inherit his property. With the general intention of carrying out his said fixed purpose as aforesaid, he, in the clause of his will which makes provision for his wife and which is made up from and includes the following language of his will to-wit:—

It is my will that my wife, Elizabeth S. Irvine, shall have all of my estate, real and mixed and personal, as my sole heir, and I do hereby appoint her my executrix, and request that the Court of the County shall not require any inventory of my estate or any security on her bond as Executrix of this my last will. In the event however that she, my wife, dies intestate and without making any disposition of my estate then I provide that my estate shall be divided as follows: . . . Now by way of explanation, I make all of above legacies subject to the approval, alteration, or change in part or of the whole, of my wife, Elizabeth S. Irvine, except the legacies to my half brother, John S. Harris. These I require to be paid at her death;

the said Wm. M. Irvine, intentionally avoiding giving, devising or bequeathing his property in fee to his said wife, knowing that were he to give the fee to his said wife, her heirs would inherit the same in the event she died intestate without making any disposition by will thereof, which would be contrary to his fixed purpose as aforesaid. Said Wm. M. Irvine provided for his wife a gift, the character of which was the sole and exclusive possession and enjoyment of all of his property for her life, coupled with a limited right to exercise the limited power to approve or alter or change the schedule of his gifts of all his property, to take effect in remainder over, upon her dying intestate and without exercising said power by altering or changing his said gifts and disposing of the subject matter thereof, or any part thereof, to the objects of her bounty. Said William M. Irvine's intention, expressed by the said language of his will was that all of his gifts over, in remainder, of all his estate, were not subject to any other or further disposition by his wife; the first taker than that disposition clearly provided for by his said will in the language appointing her his executrix and empowering her to approve or alter or change his gifts. The gifts by the said William M. Irvine of said interest or estate in his said farm was and is a valid testamentary gift. At the time of his death both William M. Irvine and his wife had large separate estates. She had no particular need of the corpus of his estate. He, however, desired her to enjoy the dominion over his property, as well as the revenue and use thereof during her life. Neither William M. Irvine nor Elizabeth S. Irvine had any living descendants at the time of his death or at the time of her death, nor at such times did they or either of them have any dependent relatives or members of their household. All the heirs of said Elizabeth S. Irvine are her collateral kin. The said gift of the farm by the said William M. Irvine to this petitioner, David I. White, of Kansas City, is the only gift provided for in either his will or in her alleged will, in which these two people, or either of them, expressed a wish or provided for any consideration or act to be done or performed by any donee of their many and valuable gifts, amounting to Four Hundred Thousand Dollars, ($400,000) in consideration of and for their country.

9 Said Elizabeth S. Irvine died without exercising the limited right or power given her by William M. Irvine in his said last will in reference to his said farm or his gifts thereof.

She died intestate as to and without making any disposition of the farm at Richmond, Ky., belonging to the estate of William M. Irvine. She died intestate as to and without making any alteration or change or disposition of the interests or estate in said farm the gift to David Irvine White, Sr., under the will of William M. Irvine. She died intestate as to and without making any disposition of the farm at Richmond, Ky., belonging to the estate of William M. Irvine and without making any alteration, change or disposition of the interest or estate in said farm the gift to David Irvine White, Jr., under the will of William M. Irvine. And it resulted that at the date of the death of Elizabeth S. Irvine, the title to the farm at Richmond, Ky., that belonged to Wm. M. Irvine, was vested the same as at the date of the death of Wm. M. Irvine, except that David Irvine White, Sr., is entitled to the present possession and enjoyment.

The executrix of William M. Irvine, deceased, was fully and finally discharged, as such long prior to her death, and thereby any and all power vested in her as executrix was extinguished. After the date of the death of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, to-wit: November 25, 1920, any and all power to approve or alter or change the vested interests or estates created by her said husband in said farms was also extinguished. Said Elizabeth S. Irvine made no disposition of the estate of William M. Irvine, or any interest therein, except under the limited powers given her by the will of Wm. M. Irvine, the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, did intend to dispose of certain items of her husband's estate, but only in the express and specific execution of the said power given her by her said husband to alter or change his said gifts over and which intended changes by her were as follows, to-wit:

She changed her gifts of the shares of stock in the Second and First National Banks, of Richmond, Ky., from his donees, Wm. I. Greenway, "Sonnie" Shelby and Newton K. White; Willie I. Shelby, Fannie Shelby, and John S. Harris by her gifts of the same property or proceeds thereof, to Willie I. Shelby, Fannie Shelby Matthews, Irvine Patton, O. B. Patton, and Lucy M. White; and she changed his gifts of the residence "Irvinton," and furniture therein contained from his donee, Alice W. Greenway and William I. Greenway, by her partially void gifts of the same property to the Kentucky Medical Society the City of Richmond, Susan P. Bennett, and R. W. Miller; and she changed his gifts of lot thirteen, block twenty, and lots one and two, block six, all in Ashburn's Addition to Kansas City, Mo., from his donees "Sonnie" Shelby and Newton K. White, by her void gifts of the same property to the Medical Society of Kentucky, Shelby I. White and Shelby I. Patton, respectively. These were the only alterations or changes which the said Elizabeth S. Irvine made in the testamentary gifts of William M. Irvine. These changes and alterations by her disposed of every item of property in her said husband's estate in her possession at the time of her death; all other items of his estate were either worthless had passed out of existence, or had been disposed of by her as his executrix, excepting the farm hereinbefore referred to, to which said farm she did not mention or refer to throughout the forty-seven pages of her alleged will. This farm was the largest and most valuable single item in both the estate of Wm. M. Irvine and Elizabeth S. Irvine, and lies within a mile of the residence where she lived 92 years, Elizabeth S. Irvine did not expressly mention or refer to either David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Ala., or this cross petitioner, David I. White, of Kansas City Mo., or Wm. I. Greenway, in connection with the changes she intended, desired, attempted or did make, nor did she by her language, either expressly or by implication, so refer to them or either of them, as the

Greenway, in connection with the changes she intended, desired, attempted or did make, nor did she by her language, either expressly or by implication, so refer to them or either of them, as the said donees of said farm of the said Wm. M. Irvine.

By the following language employed by her, to-wit:—

In the year 1846 I was married to my first cousin, Wm. M. Irvine, being of sound mind on this June 1st, 1915, I make and subscribe to this last will and testament, revoking all other wills. I am empowered by my husband, Wm. M. Irvine's last will and testament, to make any change in that instrument I might desire and I shall proceed to do in this writing. . . . It is my will that I make D. Irvine White, of Huntsville, Ala., and John W. Crooke, of Richmond, Ky., my executors of this my last will. . . . It is my will that there shall be no sale of my estate. . . . And now my task is done. I have made changes in my husband's last will. Such changes, however, as I am empowered by that instrument to make. Of these changes he and myself had consulted, and I am satisfied those I have made would meet with his hearty approval. . . . It is my will that I make William Irvine Greenway my residuary legatee.

And by language of her alleged will the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, intended not to exercise her said power to approve or alter or change or to otherwise dispose of said farm or of the interests or estates therein created and given by the will of Wm. M. Irvine, deceased, and intended his said gifts to stand and remain as he had made them and concerning which he and she had consulted—and she intended to make no changes other than those concerning which he and she had consulted, and from which consultations she knew would meet with his hearty approval.

1. Said cross petitioner is informed and believes and from such information and belief states the fact to be, that at the date of the death of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, November 25, 1920, the only property which she had received from her said father David Irvine, under his said will, and that stood at that time in her name in fee, was the three lots in Kansas City, Mo., described as lots 13, Block 20, Ashburn's Addition and lots 1 and 2 Block 6, Ashburn's Addition, and the stocks and bonds in which she had invested the proceeds of her sales of all of the balance of said property which she had so received from her said father; and that all of the said fifteen heirs of the said David Irvine, deceased, as such, have the right to elect whether they will make claims for the amount of said receipts of sales of said property as a just debt against the personal property assets of her estate, which the said cross petitioner now says is now in the hands and possession of the said defendant, John W. Crooke.

Wherefore, said David I. White, of Kansas City, Mo., the cross petitioner and counter-claimant herein prays the Honorable Court to find by its orders and decrees herein—

1. That all of the persons made defendants to this cross petition and counter-claim are proper and necessary parties defendant, and that they be required to plead to or answer this petition and counter-claim; and,

2. That all of said fifteen named heirs-at-law of the said David Irvine be required by their answer or answers to elect whether or not they will claim, subject to all equitable and legal defenses, the said property acquired by the said Elizabeth S. Irvine with the said proceeds of her sales of said property received by her under the will of her said father, David Irvine, or whether they will make claim for the amount of said receipts of sales of said property as a just debt against the personal property assets of her estate in the hands of her executor, if the court finds that the said Elizabeth S. Irvine has such executor;

3. That the said defendant John W. Crooke, acting as executor or in any other capacity, has no right, title or interest in or to the 234 acre farm described and devised under the will of the said Wm. M. Irvine, and that said farm is no part of the estate of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine;

4. That the said William M. Irvine, by his last will and testament, intended to and did, by valid testamentary gifts, create the following interests or estate in his said 234-acre farm, located in Madison county, Ky., near Richmond, and described in his will and in the deeds of David W. Irvine and J. Stone Walker, of record in the Madison county court clerk's office in Book 23, at page 341, and in Book 29 at page 389, respectively, to-wit:

1st.—Interest or estate with exclusive possession and enjoyment for her life in his wife and widow, Elizabeth S. Irvine.

2nd.—Interest or estate with right of possession at the death of Elizabeth S. Irvine in David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Ala., for his life;

3rd.—Interest or estate with right of possession at the death of said David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Ala., in the cross-petitioner, David I. White, of Kansas City, Mo., in fee remainder subject to be divested by the non-performance of the condition that he drop the name of White and take the name of David Irvine within the time provided;

4th.—Interest or estate in Wm. Irvine Greenway as residuary legatee in reversion after the deaths of Elizabeth S. Irvine, David Irvine White, of Huntsville, Ala., and David I. White, of Kansas City, Mo., subject to be divested by the performance by that all of which said vested interests or estates in said farm (so created by the will of said William Irvine, deceased), were subject to be divested by the exercise of the limited right or power which was intended to be and was created by the said language of the said Wm. M. Irvine, deceased, in his said will and given as intended by him to his said wife Elizabeth S. Irvine, to approve, alter or change the said interests or estates as to the extent thereof or as to the donees thereof; and

5. That at the death of Elizabeth S. Irvine the titles to said interests or estates in said farm so created by the said Wm. M. Irvine, remained vested the same as at the date of the death of said Wm. M. Irvine, except that the said D. Irvine White, Sr., is entitled to the present possession and enjoyment thereof, subject to any valid lease or rental made by Elizabeth S. Irvine to A. J. House during her life time; and

6. That said John W. Crooke be enjoined and restrained from in any manner interfering with or further clouding this petitioner's and cross claimant's title to said farm, and from further attempting to mingle the said farm or any interest therein or proceeds thereof with the true assets of the estate of Elizabeth S. Irvine, deceased; and

7. That the said document exhibited and alleged to be the said last will and testament of the said Elizabeth S. Irvine, deceased, is void as to and ineffectual to pass the title to any real estate or interest or right or title therein, located in the state of Missouri.

And said cross petitioner and counter-claimant prays for all other and further orders and decrees and relief as he may be in equity and good conscience entitled to, together with his costs herein expended, and a reasonable allowance for his attorney's fees incurred by him in the premises.

DAVID I. WHITE, Defendant, Cross Petitioner and Counter-Claimant.
JOHN NOLAND, Attorney of record for David I. White, hereinabove described.

INTERESTING TALE OF CAMP NELSON BRIDGE

Motorists and others from this section are interested in a description and history of the big wooden bridge over the Kentucky river at Camp Nelson, as given by Col. James Maret in the Lexington Leader last Sunday. Col. Maret wrote of it:

The oldest wooden bridge in the state spans picturesque Kentucky river at Camp Nelson, on the Lexington-Danville-Lancaster pike, 20 miles south of Lexington; the most wonderful, single-span, old fashioned covered wooden bridge in the world. It is more than 250 feet long and was erected in 1838-39-40 by W. C. Weinang, a period of three years being required for its building. It has been in constant use for 80 years. Some fifteen years ago a movement, which met with vigorous opposition by those who desired to preserve it for its great historic value, had been set afoot to replace the old bridge with a modern steel structure.

Some writer states that the state furnished half the money for the erection of this bridge adding that its total cost was estimated to be $250,000. State aid was discontinued in 1837, and records which the present writer has been able to find, shows that the state paid its portion or apportionment, $154,000, on the above named turnpike of 42 miles but no mention is made of the bridge. Weinang was the largest individual stockholder in the enterprise.

Every piece of timber that entered into the construction of this bridge was hand hewn before the work of assembling had been started. It required a force of more than a hundred men half a year to prepare the timber, which was done to the minutest detail under the personal supervision of the contractor.

Weinang, who was a very wealthy man, was financially wrecked by the venture. The bridge is about 30 feet wide and has a double driveway. Until the toll gates were destroyed by the night riders in Kentucky a charge of 50 cents for buggies and 75 cents for wagons was made to those who crossed. The bridge is claimed to be 290 feet in length and has no supports except the abutments at either end.

East of the bridge in Jessamine county, on a beautiful level tract of land was established in 1863, a national military camp which was used by Federal soldiers until the close of the Civil War. It was named in honor of General Wm. Nelson, who was afterwards killed on the steps of the Galt House in Louisville by Federal Generals Jeff C. Davis, whom Nelson had reprimanded over some minor matter.

The place was chosen at that time as a national camp on account of the old bridge in which the soldiers were quartered in the more severe weather. At times the bridge was used as a hospital for the afflicted and wounded.

Since the war the bridge is generally known as the "Camp Nelson Bridge." A short distance from it, toward Nicholasville, in Jessamine county, is a national cemetery, in which Federal soldiers who lost their lives in the battle of Perryville are buried; also many who died in the hospital are buried there. The cemetery is beautifully kept by the United States government, under the charge of Captain S. S. Cole, a custodian who was appointed by Abraham Lincoln, 56 years ago. Captain Cole is a veteran of the war which peopled the cemetery he looks after.

KILLING IN CRAP GAME AT MAYSVILLE

Maysville, Ky., March 26.—Thomas Horsley, prominent farmer, was found murdered near his home in the Harris neighborhood. Shell Howard, a neighbor, heard the shot which is believed to have killed Horsley. Howard says that shortly before he heard the shot Horsley in company with Raymond Denton and Jeff Mannin, and passed him and when he found Horsley these two men had gone.

Horsley's pocketbook was found near his body. It was open and money scattered about on the ground. Later Denton gave himself up and claimed that Mannin shot Horsley, they having been in a crap game, he said, and a dispute arose that caused the shooting. Horsley was well and favorably known here, having been a merchant in his neighborhood for many years.

Fake Permit Probe Gets Federal Officers Nowhere
Louisville, Ky., March 26.—Investigation into whisky frauds in Kentucky through use of spurious permits has been abandoned by the prohibition authorities, it was discovered Friday.

Hopelessness of the task of ever discovering the perplexities of the frauds was given as the reason.

More than six revenue agents were busy checking over all the whisky shipments which left the state until approximately three weeks ago, according to federal agents, but the records in the New York prohibition office were so ensnared that no accurate work could be done. It is estimated that between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 gallons of whisky were purchased in the state through use of fraudulent permits.
